TERRIFIC STORM ON WEST COAST

Disturbance Extends From Mexico to Canada.

HEAVY RAIN IN CALIFORNIA

At Least Four Lives Lost, Many Persons Made Homeless, Buildings Damaged, Railways Tied Up and Telephone and Telegraph Wires Down in California, Washington and Oregon.

Los Angeles, Jan. 27.—Four men are drowned, a boy is reported to have lost his life, many persons were driven from their homes, buildings are damaged and steam and electric railway traffic either tied up or seriously interrupted in Southern California as the result of the rain which deluged this section in the past twenty-four hours.

The deaths were those of Louis Jones, a retired banker of Montecito; Hugh Spear Haven, a Chicagoan who was drowned near Monrovia; Frank Rios, sixty years old, a Mexican, who was drowned in his cabin near here, and Rico Rodriguez, who sank in the flood waters of the San Gabriel river near Whittier.

Haven, who had come to Monrovia to pass the winter with his wife, was drowned when he attempted to jump a storm drainage ditch and fell in. His body was found with his right hand caught in the woodwork of a bridge near the scene of his death. He was fifty-seven years old.

An unidentified boy was said to have been swept into the Los Angeles river when a cable upon which he had been leaning gave way.

Ranchers Marooned in Homes.

For ten miles along the Rio Hondo near Montebello ranchers were marooned in their homes by flood waters which reached a depth of six feet, forcing the occupants to roofs or second stories. All were rescued.

The Southern Pacific, the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake and the Santa Fe railroads all suffered from their deluge. The Salt Lake reported several washouts on its lines. One freight train was stalled for hours near Workman station by mud which flood waters had carried on the tracks.

Santa Fe officials said a freight train is wedged in by a landslide on a cut on its new double track line in Cajon Pass. The old grade through the pass is still available, however, and the Santa Fe continued to care for its town traffic as well as for that of the Southern Pacific and the Salt Lake generally throughout California.

Southern Pacific traffic was generally interrupted throughout this section. Damage to highways in Los Angeles county alone is estimated at $500,000.

With the entire country side literally soaking the forecast was more rain. Already the precipitation to date is 13.92 inches, or nearly twice the normal rainfall.

OREGON TOWNS HARD HIT

Streams Overflowing, Wires Down and Buildings Damaged.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 27.—Reports from Eugene, Ore., were received here that Amazon creek, a small stream flowing through the town, has gone over its banks and many persons in the lower parts of the city are marooned in their homes.

The storm south of Portland was violent and the telephone and telephone lines between Portland and Salem and in the southern part of the state were crippled for a time. At Salem the storm partially unroofed a portion of the state asylum for the insane, causing considerable damage in the building when a heavy rainfall followed in the wake of the wind.

At Baker, in Eastern Oregon, the courthouse was damaged and many buildings were unroofed.

SIXTY-MILE AN HOUR GALE

Worst Storm in Seattle's History Is in Progress.

Seattle, Jan. 27.—The severest storm on Puget sound since the establishment of the Seattle weather bureau is in progress. The wind blew sixty miles an hour at Cape Flattery and fifty-four miles at Seattle. Several sailing vessels are off the Washington coast. For many weeks a succession of gales has raged off the Pacific Northwest coast. The excess of rainfall at Seattle since Jan. 1 has been five and one-third inches.

WORST STORM THIS SEASON

Entire Western Coast in Grip of Bad Weather.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—The entire western seaboard of the United States continued in the grip of the worst storm recorded this season. The second day closed with rail transportation facilities crippled by floods, cloud-bursts, washouts and landslides.

The southern and mountainous regions of California received the brunt of the rain and snow laden gales. In the Sierras the snowfall was unusually heavy.

REPORTS CAUSE OF INSOLVENCY

Commerce Commission Probes Frisco Line Affairs.

SENATE RECEIVES FINDINGS

Acquisition of Roads Through Syndicates Which Profited to the Extent of Over Eight Million Dollars, Some of Which Was Pocketed by the Line's Officers, Are Cited as Among the Underlying Reasons.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Financial operations which included the acquisition of lines through syndicates which profited to the extent of more than $8,000,000, some of which was pocketed by the road's officers, are cited as among the underlying causes for the insolvency of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad company, in a report to the senate by the interstate commerce commission on the Frisco line's receivership.

No recommendations are made by the commission, E. E. Clark, the chairman, saying in a letter of transmittal addressed to the president that they were not called for in the resolution adopted by the senate last summer directing the investigation.

The report shows that the funded debt of the railroad May 27, 1913, when the receivership was ordered, amounted to $2.63 per cent of the total capital liability, the total capital at that time amounting to $295,633,933.72, of which only $51,364,100 was capital stock and $244,269,833.72 was funded debt, including equipment trust notes.

Submits Comparative Figures.

That the interest bearing liabilities of the Frisco system exceeded the stock liability by 375 per cent, "and were wholly disproportionate when compared with the capitalization of other carriers, including those in the territory west of the Mississippi river," is asserted by the commission, which submits figures for eight selected railroads showing the average ratio of funded debt to capital liability to be 33.65 per cent.

The report further declares that the inability of the Frisco to meet its obligations seemed to have been apparent for some time prior to the application for a receivership; that strenuous efforts were made by its officers to tide over the financial difficulties from day to day; that money was borrowed from all available sources until every avenue of assistance was exhausted, marketable securities being either sold or pledged as collateral under the numerous loans, and that notwithstanding this exhausted financial condition the Frisco sold to Speyer & Co. of New York $3,000,000 of its general lien 5 per cent bonds, a transaction which the commission declares warranted condemnation.

LINDBERGH HAS OPPOSITION

H. J. Maxfield of Wadena, Minn., Files for Congress.

St. Paul, Jan. 27.—Herbert J. Maxfield of Wadena will oppose Congressman C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls for re-election in the Sixth congressional district. Mr. Maxfield filed as a Republican candidate.

Mr. Maxfield is well known in Northern Minnesota as the first president of the Northern Minnesota Development association. He also served as state immigration commissioner, being appointed in 1912 after the death of George Welsh. He resigned last year after a disagreement with members of the immigration board over its policy and resumed the practice of law. He is thirty-four years old and a native of Illinois. He was graduated from the law department of the University of North Dakota in 1905 and located at Wadena, where he served two terms as county attorney.

GRAFT JURY IS COMPLETE

Former St. Paul Police Chief and Detective on Trial.

St. Paul, Jan. 27.—With the completion of the jury the trial of Martin Flanagan, former chief of police, and Fred Turner, former city detective, for alleged bribery in the third degree, will be taken up before Judge P. W. Morrison of Norwood, Minn., a special judge for this term of the criminal branch of the district court.

Flanagan and Turner are jointly charged in the indictment with receiving $1,000 from Dorothy Hazard, former resort keeper, on March 20, 1913, for police protection for an alleged resort conducted by the Hazard woman.

Former Examiner to Prison.

Columbus, O., Jan. 24.—Convicted of having abstracted $3,140 from funds of a local bank which had failed, Clement S. Baxter, a former state bank examiner, was sentenced by Common Pleas Judge Bigler to serve three years in the penitentiary.

SUTHERLAND ATTACKS RIGHT

Washington, Jan. 27.—An attack by Senator Sutherland of Utah upon the right of Blair Lee to a seat in the senate by virtue of the election in Maryland last November marked the opening of the debate on the report of the committee on elections recommending that Mr. Lee be seated.

Senator Sutherland contended that neither the seventeenth amendment, authorizing the direct election of senators, nor the laws of Maryland authorized the governor to call a special election to fill the Maryland vacancy in the senate.

WITNESSES DENY

COMPANY IS TRUST

Sugar Brokers Testify in Dissolution Suit.

New York, Jan. 27.—Attorneys for the American Sugar Refining company called two sugar brokers as witnesses to support their contention that the American company is not a trust. The testimony was taken in the government's suit to force the company to dissolve under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Lewis W. Minford said that the purchases of raw sugar made by the American Sugar Refining company in proportion to those of other refineries had diminished of late years and that in 1913 but 30 per cent of the business went to the American.

Herbert S. Connell declared that the raw sugar brokers were not connected with the refining company and that their commissions came solely from the sellers.

Edward L. Wemple, sales manager of the Warner Sugar Refining company, testified that if his company or any of the other important rivals of the American cut the price of granulated sugar 5 cents a hundred pounds all its competitors would be forced to meet the reduction.

Lines Reduce Ocean Rates.

London, Jan. 27.—The American, Cunard and White Star lines announced reductions of $4 in their rates for eastbound passengers and $2.50 for westbound passengers, bringing their prices down to the cut rates of the Hamburg-American line.

BLAZING BOY SPREADS

DEATH TO FOUR OTHERS.

Quebec, Jan. 27.—Thirteen-year-old Wilfred Robin, with his clothes afire after an explosion of coal oil with which he was attempting to light a stove, rushed among his relatives at the Robin home at Notre Dame de Rossire and communicated the flames to nine others. Five, including the boy, were burned and another is dying.

Has Seen a Long Procession.

Levi P. Morton has been seen riding about Washington streets and recognized by a few who remember him as vice president during the Harrison administration. Morton was once a member of congress from New York city, but it was as vice president that he became prominent. He has seen a long procession of public men pass since he was vice president. Six vice presidents have been elected and installed since he held the position.

If Wilson Were Willing.

If the president were willing the whole civil service law would be repealed by the present congress, judging from what is heard on the floor and among members of congress individually. There are so few places, and most of them now filled by Republicans, that the Democrats would do almost anything to make vacancies in the federal service.

Borah an Absentee.

Senator Borah of Idaho has never been seen at the joint meetings of the senate and house to listen to the message of the president. He does not believe that it is a good plan. He thinks it should have been allowed to die with the old Federalist party.

CONGRESS BUSY ON TRUST MEASURES

TO PASS FARM CREDIT BILL

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The work of passing measures which will strengthen the Sherman anti-trust law and regulate big business promises to consume as much time and cause as lengthy debates as did the currency and tariff bills. Various committees were quick to begin work as soon as President Wilson read his message to congress, in which he outlined his views, which are likewise the views of the Democratic majorities.

Business throughout the country was not shocked by the message; the suggestions and trust remedies were expected. It remains to be seen whether or not the administration will make good the trust plank in its platform as it did the pre-election promises as regarded the currency question and the tariff bill.

Farm Credit Bill.

Another important measure which is expected to occupy much time of the present session of congress is the passage of a bill providing ample farm credits so as to make unnecessary a repetition of the loans to banks throughout the south and southwest, as was the case last fall. The administration believes that the farmer should be aided; that means should be provided enabling him to properly finance his crop. With this end in view several bills have been drawn, and it is expected that one will pass at this session.

Injected the Tariff.

They can't keep the tariff out of the discussions in the senate if there is the slightest excuse for bringing it in. The attempt to do something for the farmer led to a diversion the other day into which was injected the high cost of living and the effect of the tariff on prices. Senator Bristow asserted that the price of live stock had been lowered, but that the price of meats to the consumer remained the same. Then Senator Reed of Missouri came forward with a suggestion about enlarged markets for the American farmer. This brought Senator Gallinger up, and Reed remarked:

"I hope the senator from New Hampshire is not going to propose that old, obsolete fake of the home market."

And then they were off in a gallop, and the tariff was the topic for two hours or more. No one was convinced, and mighty little information was presented.

Made No Pretense.

"You Republicans," said Boomer of Missouri to Willis of Ohio during the discussion of the rider on the postoffice appropriation bill taking assistant postmasters from under the civil service, "are opposing this legislation because you want to hold Republicans in office. I am for it because I want to get the Republicans out and Democrats in their places."

And that was about all there was in the whole contest. The "outs" wanted to oust the "ins."

Might Get Experience.

That old Jay Gould story about the fellow going into business with him and furnishing the money and coming out with the experience was brought into the Alaska debate by inference the other day. The discussion was between Lippitt of Rhode Island and Borah of Idaho.

"I have no doubt," said Lippitt, "that if the senator from Idaho and myself were to build a railroad in Alaska we would agree."

"I would be sure to agree with the senator because he would have the money," said Borah.

"I might have it to start with," retorted Lippitt.

HEARINGS TO BE ARRANGED

House Judiciary Committee May Refuse to Join Senate.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Plans for public hearings on the anti-trust legislation program in congress probably will take definite shape when the house judiciary and interstate commerce committees hold separate meetings.

There is some feeling between the committees in both branches of congress over the question of jurisdiction and it was said the house judiciary committee probably will not consent to joint hearings, which Chairman Newlands of the senate committee on interstate commerce and his colleagues have suggested.

President Urges Ratification of Arbitration Treaties.

DISCUSS FOREIGN PROBLEMS

Democratic and Republican Members of Foreign Relations Committee Gather at White House and Exchange Views With Chief Executive on Panama Canal Tolls, Mexican Situation and Japanese Alien Land Controversy.

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Wilson conferred for nearly three hours with the senate committee on foreign relations. The entire committee, Republicans and Democrats, with the exception of Senator Clark, gathered in the green room and discussed foreign affairs of the nation.

For the first time during his administration the president broached the subject of the Panama canal tolls. The unratified arbitration treaties and the proposed Bryan peace treaties, as well as the Mexican situation and the Japanese alien land controversy, were among the subjects discussed.

When the conference was over all the senators agreed to maintain secrecy, leaving to the president to discuss what had taken place.

The president explained to the waiting correspondents that he had earnestly urged the ratification of the general arbitration treaties proposed for renewal, sixteen in number. He said the language of none of the treaties would be changed; that exceptions in them had not been suggested at the conference and expressed confidence that they would be ratified.

The president also outlined to the committee his attitude on the Panama canal tolls question. He declined to discuss his views with newspaper men.

The senators had asked him many questions, the president reported, and he said he had answered as many of them as possible, but, unfortunately, could not give them all the details owing to the unavoidable absence of Secretary Bryan.

All foreign questions pending were discussed and the president said the senators asked him a great deal about Mexico. Beyond giving them as much information about the condition of affairs in Mexico as he had, the president said, no discussion of policy took place.

COST OF LIVING WILL DROP

Secretary Bryan So Informs American Asiatic Society.

New York, Jan. 27.—President Wilson's policy toward business and his proposed legislation affecting trusts promise a lower cost of living at home and increased international trade, William J. Bryan, secretary of state, declared in an address before the American Asiatic society here. Secretary Bryan discussed the administration's attitude to foreign commerce and the Chinese loan question.

Alluding to the government's proposed regulation of trusts and the probable effects Mr. Bryan said:

"The president has outlined a reform the influence of which cannot be bounded by national lines. He has declared war on private monopoly and this means the investment of capital that has hitherto been frightened away from industrial fields."

ORE DISCOVERY BOOMS PITTSBURGH

Under This Heading Pittsburgh Post records Rowe Mine Development near Riverton

RICHEST IRON MINE IN YEARS

Article Based on Capt. J. C. Barr's Annual Report to Pittsburgh Steel Co. Directors

Occupying the most prominent place in the Pittsburgh Post of January 7 and appearing under the heading: "Ore Discovery Big Boom for Pittsburgh. Local Company finds Deposit Estimated at One Hundred Million Tons in Minnesota. Aid to Steel Business. Mining Operations Started and First Shipment of Ore Expected Here Soon," the Pittsburgh Post writes up the Rowe mine at Riverton and gives Crow Wing county and the Cuyuna range these words of commendation:

"After exhaustive exploration covering a period of many months the Pittsburgh Steel Company has developed the richest iron ore mine discovered in recent years, and probably one of the three biggest mines in the United States. J. C. Barr, general manager of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore company, a subsidiary of the Pittsburgh Steel company, and through which the ore company will handle all of its business, spent the past week in Pittsburgh, in submitting his final report for the year 1913 he demonstrated beyond question that the property contains not less than 100,000,000 tons of high-grade shipping ore.

Negotiations for the taking over of this property in Crow Wing county, Minn., were first started by the officers of the company in October, 1912, with the owners, prominent men of Duluth. The company placed expert iron ore men on the property to prosecute a thorough investigation and make a complete report. The showing was so satisfactory that negotiations were closed with the owners in February, 1913. At the time of closing the deal the original owners were not aware of the enormous quantity of high-grade ore contained in the mine, this being only discovered by the experts of the Pittsburgh Steel company since the closing of the deal, otherwise so favorable a contract could not have been made. Today a conservative estimate by a number of geologists and iron men makes the available quantity of ore not less than the 100,000,000 tons mentioned all of a commercial high grade, averaging not less than .56 to .58 per cent metallic iron.

The geographical location of this property is most favorable for everything in connection with mining. Transportation is unexcelled. The Soo Line has made direct connection with the mine and is now ready to receive any tonnage offered. The tracks of the Northern Pacific are near at hand and easily available. The company has already made satisfactory arrangements for lake transportation of its product.

The mine operation is a "stripping" one, no deep mining being required. The overhead covering averages 40 feet of sand. Two means are being used to remove this—washing by hydraulic pressure and by steam shovel. Already about 600,000 cubic yards of the overhead material has been removed. The area of the mine is 220 acres. A new town has already been established. It is called Riverton, owing to its close proximity to the Mississippi river, which is but two miles away. The company has also provided a number of houses for its employees. It will begin shipping ore as soon as lake navigation opens next spring.

To form some idea as to the value of this ore leading ore producers have fixed the value of $1 a ton in the ground. The property being a stripping proposition will enable the Pittsburgh Steel company to mine the ore at a minimum cost. This property was acquired principally to supply ore for use in its two modern blast furnaces recently completed in Monessen, but there will be a large surplus beyond the requirements of the company.

With the acquiring of its ore property the Pittsburgh Steel company, with its closely allied company, the Pittsburgh Steel Products company, will give employment to about 6,000 men, with an annual payroll approximately $5,000,000. Therefore, it can be seen, that the acquisition of this item of raw material will benefit Pittsburgh to a large degree and places these companies in an independent position, enabling them to turn out finished products directly from their own ore. The new mine was named "Rowe" in honor of President Wallace H. Rowe of the steel company.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Robert F. Sulzer, Organizer of Presbyterian Sunday School, Present at Anniversary

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Presbyterian Sabbath school was observed Sunday. Robert F. Sulzer, who organized the school, was present and made the addresses of the day. The church was beautifully decorated with red and silver festoons and hung with bells. An altar was erected back of the pulpit, arranged in tiers, and upon this were the twenty-five candles representing the years of the school. In the evening these candles were lighted and burned during the services.

Mrs. Fred Luken who for the past twenty-five years has been secretary and treasurer, read a brief history of the school. She was followed by Mr. Sulzer who told of the details of the organization. There were but five present when the organization was perfected.

At the present time there is an enrollment of 195, and Sabbath before last there was in attendance 169. The coming year promises to be the banner year in the history of the school.

There was special music during the day, and at all the services the church was comfortably filled. Rev. W. J. Lowrie presided and conducted the preliminary exercises.

Nils Borge, Hardanger Violin Player

At the concert and exhibition given Tuesday evening, January 27, at the Redmen hall in the Iron Exchange building, the Thorshaug-Borge company will appear under the auspices of the Sons of Norway.

One of the features will be Nils Borge, who plays an eight string Hardanger violin and has an international reputation. He won first premium in Bergen when only 18 years old. He also plays duets with Olav Thorshaug.

ORIENTALS TO MEET IN FEBRUARY

Oriental Meeting Announced by Grand Vizier Col. C. D. Johnson, For Next Month

SAME COMMITTEES SERVING
Initiation Fee $2.50—Class of 85 to be Secured—Application Cards at Wm. Nelson

Grand Vizier Col. C. D. Johnson, representative of the Grand Order of the Orientals on the American Continent, being so well pleased with the executive ability shown by the last committee in financing and calling together the last concatenation of the Orientals, has delegated to the same committee the task of calling this year's convocation of the Right Honorable Princes and the Oasis is to be selected shortly and the date of the gathering of the clans is to be early in February, A. D. 1914.

It will take two and one-half dollars of lawful coin of the realm to pass a candidate through the gates into the realms of bliss and the seventh heaven occupied by all approved and apprenticed Princes of the Orient.

The neophyte must in the first instance be a member of some fraternal order, because otherwise he could never appreciate the subtle delicacy and refinement, the superhuman ritual and the wealth of oratorical literature, almost spontaneous in its combustion, which is unleashed once a year when the Orientals get together and which is a fruitful source of conversation for months after.

There are orders and orders in Brainerd, but there is only one bright, refulgent oasis in the desert of despair, one haven of refuge for a novice to crawl into and that is the Peerless Order of the Oriental Princes.

This year new work will be put on. The paraphernalia was ordered some time ago. No more than 85 candidates can be accepted this year as the capacity of the hall is limited. This is the only order which takes a candidate on the provision that if he does not get his money's worth, the price he has paid as entrance fee will be cheerfully refunded him.

The faithful are asked to call on Wm. Nelson and secure application cards. It means constant solicitation on the part of the old members, not one idle moment between now and the initiation, to secure the class of 85, collect the $2.50 each, and make the preparations for the ceremonies and the banquet.

The ambrosial nectar of the gods fades away into insignificant pulchritude, the menu cards of Rameses and Nebuchadnezzar sail up Salt Creek when they compare their line of dope with what will be set before the Princes of the Orient in the way of a feed on initiation night.

And as to the ceremonials! No one can equal our Grand Vizier, the Honorable Col. C. D. Johnson as he expounds the noble tenets of this grand order. Come and hear the colonel at his best. None can compare with the agility of Sir Prince F. S. Parker as he scurries about in his duties as water boy, carrying refreshments to the lips of the Grand Vizier as he pauses to moisten them while delivering his injunction, "Mark the Answer."

Off near the horizon is Judge J. T. Sanborn and he gives the signs. He is the Grand Orient. On another pedestal is Judge W. A. Fleming administering the oath, solemn and binding in its intensity. Seated on a dias in a corner of the banquet chamber is Judge C. A. Albright, president of the N. M. D. A., and he takes part in the ritualistic ceremonies. The finishing touches are put on by J. J. Nolan.

From the verdure clad hills of this district comes Forest Ranger J. P. Saunders and he herds the candidates and brings them in. But prius, to say more and one word might reveal the intricacies and the depths of humanitarism in which the Oriental Princes revel.

Fill out your application card, Oh Prince of the Orient-soon-to-be and join the February class. You will never regret it.

PEQUOT REVIEW SOLD

Publisher, C. P. Eastman, Sells Weekly to Ben A. Wagner, Northern Newspaper Man

C. P. Eastman, publisher of the Pequot Review, has sold the paper to Ben A. Wagner, a northern Minnesota newspaper man who has conducted papers at Pequot, Pine River and Nevis in the past. Mr. Wagner takes possession on Monday, February 2.

Editor Eastman has been at Pequot four years, coming from Swanville. It has been an uphill fight for him, said he, and he was succeeding in getting a measure of the sunshine of prosperity when Wagner came along, made him a good offer for the plant and goodwill and the deal was closed in 20 minutes.

Pequot, in recent months, has come to the front in a business way. New settlers are coming in, land is changing hands, the farmers are making money, farmers and business men are working together, there is thrift, spirit and enterprise in the air. Working in common with these agencies has been the Pequot Review and its editor, Mr. Eastman.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE OF FARMERS

LINE TO HAVE 16 SUBSCRIBERS

The Organization of a Company is Under Way—Means Much to This Section

There is in the formative period the project of a new telephone line in the Nokay Lake district and it is the purpose of the farmers there to organize a company.

It is believed that a line can be put in and that at the very inception of the enterprise 16 or more subscribers can be secured.

A telephone line in this section will do much to develop this territory. It will be of great service to the farmers, giving them closer communication, assisting them to market their products and giving them ultimate connection with Brainerd.

The growth of the farmers' clubs throughout the county has been synonymous with the extension of telephone service, for one seems to bring on the other. At the time of forest fires in the southern end of the county, the rural telephone system was of inestimable service. It enabled a small guard of men to patrol the district, to concentrate their fire fighting force where most need and while the wives stayed at the telephones, the men and wagons went wherever needed and kept the raging fires under control. Without the telephone system a sorely pressed neighbor would have been extinguished by the fire before he could hitch up and drive for help.

There are times in the early watches of the night when a man would pay a whole year's telephone rental to have a doctor at the bedside of a loved one. Without a telephone it means hitching up and driving to Brainerd while the sick one in many cases is left alone until help arrives. A telephone summons the doctor quickly and cheaply and permits the family circle to remain unbroken awaiting the arrival of the physician and in many cases the doctor can tell what is to be done with the patient pending his arrival.

Will Have a Floating Church.

Seattle (Wash.) shipbuilding companies have been asked to tender bids for the construction of a colportage cruiser to be constructed by the American Baptist Publication society for use as a floating church for 70,000 inhabitants on Puget sound who live in island communities or small settlements along the shores of the sound and who are now without a church.

THIS NEW MEDICINE SAVES YOU MONEY

We are druggists right here in your town and make a living out of the drug business, but it is because people have to have drugs and not because we like to see people suffer—we don't. Our duty is to render the best service we can, and when someone is ailing, we are interested in seeing them take the best medicine there is for their particular trouble. We don't recommend "cure-alls," as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you're sick, none at all, and you should get the most you can for your money.

We recently came across a new remedy for increasing strength and building up people who are run-down and emaciated. We know that a slight trouble sometimes grows into a serious one, and to stop it in the beginning, will save you money in the end. This new compound is called Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is the best remedy, when you are run-down, tired out, nervous—no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours, but takes hold of the weakness and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition. It is a real nerve-food tonic and builder of good blood, strong muscle, good digestion. It contains Hypophosphites, which tone the nerves, and pure Olive Oil which nourishes the nerves, the blood and the entire system. Pleasant to take. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. We promise that if you are not perfectly satisfied with it, we'll give back your money as soon as you tell us. Sold only at the 7000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. Johnson's Drug Store, Brainerd, Minn.—Advt.

ART IN HUMBLE THINGS

The Accordeon Harmony Trio Gets the Harmony Out of Three Big Winding Instruments

In these days of cravings for something new one meets a pleasant surprise at the Grand's exhibition of vaudeville for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday when one hears the burst of melody originating from three long, winding chromatic accordeons manipulated by Patsy Rossi, Salvatore Valente and Dan Valente, who play their instruments with skill and fervor and whose melodies have a gust and swing to them like the burst of a Hungarian band.

Patsy Rossi is the soloist and the way he manipulated the keys and evolved the "Light Cavalry" overture astonished people who generally imagine the accordeon was a wheezy instrument only good for pumping the accompaniment to a barn floor dance. Little Patsy played his way with equal skill through myriads of chords and runs and carried away a generous meed of applause.

The two Valentines played a duet, the "International Rag." The opening number of the trio was "My Treasure Waltz," finishing with the "Temptation Medley."

The old accordeon is a treasured and honored instrument of music in many a farm home and lumber camp, but there is a surprise in store for some of these manipulators of the "accordeon" if they tie themselves to the Grand and hear the treat which the Accordeon Harmony Trio has in store for them.

Alicia Janis and Lee Clark put on a school boy and girl skit entitled "The Two Pals." Their opening song is "Call Me Daddy" followed by "My Girl" and closing with "Hold Me Just a Little Closer." In the end comes the denouement. Clark swings off a cap and a sweep of long tresses shows the boy actor is a girl and well she plays her part, being ably supported by Miss Janis.

The pictures at the Grand, which by the way change Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, are of the best. Both shows at the Grand were of capacity houses.
